

Hello Parents,

My name is Greg Ktistou and I am the owner of Breakaway Basketball. We are the largest basketball skill development company in the state of Illinois servicing over 6K players a year. We offer monthly group training, speciality clinics, summer day clinics, and team training. We do not offer teams, but instead partner with over 100 feeder programs (3rd-8th grade) to provide skill development training and coaches training for those programs. We also specifically partner with The Downers Grove Wolfpack (Downers Grove Feeder Basketball) to help administer their tryouts and lead skill development practices for their program.

We just recently opened many of our Spring and Summer options with classes beginning to sell out.

We are also very proud to announce that Breakaway Basketball is now Powered by Under Armour. We are one of a handful of training companies across the country to have this relationship and the only one in Illinois. We look forward to growing with UA over the next few years as we continue to separate ourselves from the competition. This relationship will give our players opportunities that others cannot provide.

I look forward to seeing you in the gym!
